Sewing Teens Meet

ST. ALBERT—The meeting of the St. Albert Sewing Teens was held at the home of Anna Zabzda. The lesson which was given by the instructor, Mrs. R. Bonnevillie was on "How to adjust a pattern."

The hostesses were Irene Roberge and Magella Lavioie, who served a delicious lunch. All members were present. The next meeting will be held at the home of Annie Luszczewski.

Mr. S. A. Hauptmann attended

ONE OF NEW CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY'S new rigs, which has just completed preliminary tests near Nocomo, Texas, and is en route via trailer-truck convoy 2,000 miles to the company's properties in the Leduc field in northern Alberta, Canada. The 25 huge trucks left Nocomo, May 6 and are due at the northern field about May 20. Field operations, part of an ambitious program calling for one new drilling a week for 50 weeks, are slated to begin before the end of the month. A similar rig will start via truck convoy for the Leduc field following completion of tests in Texas according to Frank Kattel, president and managing director of the company.

Talented Musician Passes

LINARIA The Northern Alberta districts near Barrhead were deeply saddened recently by the death of Joan Mummert, talented young violinist of Linaria, who died at the Westlock hospital of spinal meningitis.

It was a shock to her many friends particularly the children who knew and loved Joan. She will also be missed in the different churches where she has played on many occasions. Miss Mummert was to have appeared before the McGill examination board in a high grade musical examination in Edmonton in June.

The funeral was held at Linaria, Rev. J. Bainbridge and other church dignitaries conducted the funeral service.

Clyde Comment

Those who can, do, those who can't, become critics. Sometimes students are so busy trying to pass examinations that they haven't time for education.

Gossip is something that goes in one ear and comes out over the back fence.

The pre-convention meeting of the officers and directors of the Alberta Hotel Association on Monday, May 26 at 2 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Matheson were guests for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Girard last Sunday.

From a single steel ingot of 36,000 pounds it is theoretically possible to make 35,000 miles of wire and 200 million small facks.

The Golfers Are Away!

BARRHEAD During this past week much activity has been in evidence on the golf course. The grounds are reported to be in excellent shape.

Judging by the number already playing this year, they are off to a good start and should develop into a very fine club. Secretary M. R. Halby reports that the club is expected to double its membership this year. An open invitation is extended to anyone to join, and old club members are gladly assisting new members in teaching the rudiments of the game.

Riley-Dubuc Vows Pledged

A wedding of considerable interest to the towns of Vegreville and St. Albert took place on Tuesday, May 20, when Miss Therese Dubuc, daughter of Mrs. Dubuc of Vegreville, and Constable K. E. Riley, who is stationed in St. Albert, were united in marriage.

The bride presented a very charming picture in white satin with a short veil, and her husband was in full dress uniform.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Later the bride and groom left on their honeymoon. The trip will include points in the province of Manitoba, where the bridegroom has his home.

The following guests from St. Albert, who were present, were: Rev. Father Labonte, Mr. W. L. Veness, mayor of St. Albert, with Mrs. Veness, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hauptmann and Mr. and Mrs. E. Perron.

The Trend in England

The Labor party continues to stage an apparent comeback in Great Britain, and the latest manifestation of this trend came in nation-wide local government elections. The returns from practically all of these boroughs in England-Wales, where voting was held earlier this month, gave Labor a gain of 568 town council seats and 15 lost. The Conservatives lost 406, gained 46. The Independents lost over 201 seats, with comparatively few gains, and the Liberals also lost more seats than they gained.

These results are not necessarily indicative of true sentiments in England, but combined with the recent results in urban voting, they show an apparent trend toward the Labor party. Such a trend might make it very difficult for Churchill's government to remain in power another three years, as Churchill hopes to do.

Laborites, meanwhile, are now clamoring for another election this fall. Unless the tide is reversed, Labor will probably be able to force a new election within a year or eighteen months at most.

Danger In Water Sports

Summer brings vacation days, with most of the people of the nation spending more and more time in the out-of-doors. Unfortunately, some of these outings, which should bring pleasure and relaxation to everyone, result in tragedies that bring sorrow to many families.

Many accidents are attributed to carelessness in the water. The surf attracts millions, with inevitable drownings, as venturesome individuals go out too far. Inland lakes, ponds and rivers likewise claim their victims, with non-swimmers occasionally getting into deep water with fatal consequences.

Accidents take a terrible toll of life in this country every year. It is well, therefore, to caution everybody about the dangers that lurk in water, known as well as unknown. Parents, who read this article, might permit it to remind them to give a warning to their children, with particular emphasis upon the need of caution in the water.

Decline of Wheat

The prairie provinces were scheduled to lose seven seats in the house of commons under regulations regarding provincial representation. The decline was due to the fact that the population increase in this area has not kept pace with the increase in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

Alberta will retain 17 seats, as this province's population has shown a substantial increase. Saskatchewan should drop from 13 to 15 seats, and Manitoba from 16 to 14. However, special consideration was given Saskatchewan at the request of Prime Minister St. Laurent by reducing our sister province's representation by only 15 per cent or three members instead of five.

Commenting on how Canada's changing industrial scene is affecting politics, the Financial Post of Toronto recalls that in 1920 Kenneth W. Taylor, now associate professor of political economy at McMaster University, prophesied this shift in political influence and warned that it might well tend to destroy the unifying influence of wheat on the Canadian scene.

He said: "The decline in the importance of wheat and the rapid increase in the importance of the new staples (coal, iron, etc.), Ontario and Quebec are beginning to lose interest in the prairies. They need the prairie markets and the prairie traffic less than before and the time may come in the not very distant future when the east may be inclined to write the prairie out of its growth troubling about."

Bible is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.—Hebrews 11:1.

How To Quit Smoking

Dr. Geloid McHugh, Professor of Psychology at Duke University, has the newest solution on how to stop smoking. About his new method, he says: "We set out to try for complete control over only a segment of the day, preferably at the beginning. The overuse of tobacco sets aside a reasonable period at the start of the day and he does not smoke in that period of one hour, two hours, three hours, no matter how much he wants to."

"But the instant that time is passed, he may smoke as usual all the rest of the day," Dr. McHugh says this goal is not too difficult and that, by using this system smokers find that they can control their desire to smoke. Pretty soon, the Professor says, smokers begin to increase the non-smoking part of their day, and eventually, come to the point where they can choose whether or not they want to.

"When they reach this point, the Professor believes, they have brought themselves to a psychological attitude which enables them to stop smoking altogether, if they so desire." The most interesting thing about Dr. McHugh's proposal is the fact that it comes from a Professor of Duke University—a school which was endowed by the late James Buchanan Duke, of tobacco industry fame.

Why Not Paint a Clear Picture?

(From the Canmore Courier)

There is a group of people who are trying to confuse the rural electrification picture in Alberta. They are undoubtedly sincere in their desire to make the utility a publicly owned affair. They use comparisons between Alberta and Manitoba and between Alberta and Saskatchewan to entice the Alberta farmers under their wing. It is true that Manitoba builds the lines direct to the farm to be served and that there are 27,000 farms already electrified in Manitoba. It is also true that the Manitoba Power Commission owns the Provincial Government the sum of $25,000,000, with an addition of $10,000,000 under authorization and not yet expended. This part of the story is never mentioned from the public platform. And another thing, Manitoba has had a surplus of power since 1910 and has been in the rural electrification picture for twenty years. Likewise, the Saskatchewan Power Commission owes the Saskatchewan Provincial Government $41,000,000. This province has made no bones of its inability to construct free rural lines to farm premises. Saskatchewan is not so fortunately situated as either Manitoba or Alberta in the matter of power resources. She has few hydro potentials near to present centres of population. Should Alberta decide to make power a publicly owned utility at the present time, the Province would be required to assume an additional bonded indebtedness of $100,000,000. As far as rates go at the present time, Alberta customers enjoy rates as low as Manitoba and lower than Saskatchewan and are not carrying any of the bonded indebtedness as an indirect charge against the utility. Another interesting feature of the argument is that Manitoba's 27,000 rural installations are confined within a geographical area of less than one-third the area in Alberta from the Edmonton district south to the international border, eliminating the Peace River area entirely.

When It's May!

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

Lucky is the man whose wife understands perfectly why he wants to go fishing, and, with a cheerful smile, waves him goodbye and wishes him good luck.

For some reason, such a woman is the exception rather than the rule. There is something in the psychology of the human male—perhaps a throwback trait to his remote ancestors—that impels him to hulk into the woods in May and catch some fish before his neighbors go out and catch them all.

There is also something in the psychology of the feminine sex—perhaps a more practical and realistic attitude—that causes a wife to regard the whole excursion as an unproductive waste of time.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:
I have a great problem on my hands. I have a daughter who has a small child between two and three years old. I have had to take care of the child most of the time. The mother is sick lots and I have to care for them both.
They have plenty and they could hire help, but they think it is my place to care for them. The husband will not help in any way and he doesn't think his people should help. I have chances to go some but they don't want me to go.
I am a widow and I have more children I could live with but they think my place is to slave for them. I am getting old and it is a hard job. Please give me your opinion.

A WORKED MOTHER
ANSWER:
Your children should be ashamed of themselves for such an attitude. While all mothers like to help their children when they need it, it is unexcusable for them to feel that their mother, who has already reared a family, should take over their responsibilities.

You have evidently taught your children to be selfish and inconsiderate of you or your husband may have been to blame. When children grow up and are not taught to help their mother or consider her feelings, they become the "gimme" type and expect to be on the receiving end of things for the rest of their lives. These children's idea of a good mother is for her to be a glorified servant.

I fear it is too late for you to do much with such a group as you seem to have reared but, if I were you, I would try to get a job of some kind and live in a boarding house or two rooms of my own. Then perhaps your son-in-law would be sager to come back on a different basis to supervise his household. Independence makes a lot of difference in the way people look at situations.
LOUISA

An elderly couple asked me if I would make them some bread. So that I did. The man took the bread home that night. I kept a loaf myself and when I tasted it my heart fell to my shoes as it tasted of Iol powder. A hen had got into the shed where we had our flour and knocked a package of Iol powder down on the flour and it went through the whole sack. This couple had their daughter with them who is a nurse. Was my face ever red, and I sure was embarrassed to have to face them all the next morning!

Bishop Grandin's Death To Be Commemorated

ST. ALBERT—A special ceremony will be held in St. Albert on Tuesday, June 3rd to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the death of Bishop Grandin.

During the morning there will be a pontifical high mass, to be sung by Most Rev. J. H. MacDonald, archbishop of Edmonton. Later, during the day, a pageant giving the principal events of Bishop Grandin's most remarkable life will be staged for the public. Bishop Grandin's life can be summarized simply in the words of poverty, suffering and a true spirit of the pioneer missionary. He travelled throughout northern Alberta and the far northern regions, teaching and helping the natives of the country.

Possibly his greatest work was accomplished among the Indians of the western plains and the Eskimos of the north.
